At GNA Group we are determined to find the right candidates for your business and we strive to ensure that the process is as streamlined as possible for our clients.

Following a rebrand in 2015 GNA was formed. Our team has over 35 years’ experience in the construction sector, supplying both temporary and permanent staff.

What do we offer?

GNA deliver a professional service that is friendly, time efficient and cost effective for our clients. Whilst it is essential to develop new relationships,

GNA understands the importance of maintaining a strong working bond with our existing clients. With round the clock access, GNA is always on call to deal with any enquiries you may have, no matter how big or small.

How did We Get Here?

Through our long-standing history of supplying high calibre labour and first-rate candidates, together with our unique and workable IT base, GNA Group is able to provide a highly streamlined and economical service tailored to the individual needs of each client and candidate.

Mechanical & Electrical

GNA is proud of the reputation it has built within the Mechanical & Electrical sector. We have been the preferred agency supplier on projects nationally and internationally ranging across Data Centers, Infrastructure, Commercial, Residential and FM sectors.

GNA regularly secures new clients as well as projects, and as such we have continued to be the agency of choice with qualified M&E technical and trades people across the UK and Europe. GNA have a national database of suitably qualified and verified mechanical and electrical personnel, ranging from Site Managers, Project Engineers, Project Managers, Contract Managers, M&E Quantity Surveyors, M&E Estimators, Engineers and Trades people.

Sourcing the best talent in Engineering and working for both principle contractors and sub-contractors, our M&E division can deliver key individuals with building services expertise. Why not email us today to find out what we could do for you?

Blue Collar Professionals

GNA have an exceptional track record of selecting the right candidates for the job and we pride ourselves on quality, not quantity, when supplying blue collar professionals. That is why we have continued to maintain such close working relationships with all of our clients and candidates. Our team of experienced consultants are on hand to ensure project flow and remove any preconceived notions you might have about the trades and labour industry.

We have developed systems and processes that ensure both our clients and staff get a round the clock service. GNA has supplied over 15,000 professionals to sites across the United Kingdom & Europe, in the last 5 years. We continue to grow as a company with the help of our clients and look forward to creating many more lasting relationships.

Are you ready to do things the GNA way?

“I was contacted by GNA regarding a construction QS position we were advertising for. From start to finish the team were fast, friendly and efficient, helping us to fill the position we had been struggling with for sometime. I would certainly recommend.” - Quantity Surveyor

Chairman's note

The GNA Group, which was founded in 2015, was formed from the original business which began life in the 1980's as the LJS Partnership.

The business, which was London centric initially, had expanded rapidly in those early years and soon became well known for our attention to detail and individual expertise. London, which has always attracted investment from both domestic and foreign interests was booming and many of the familiar Landmark buildings you see today on this iconic skyline, were begun at this time.

I am proud to say that we were engaged as the preferred labour contractor on many of these projects, in tandem with numerous further Sites where our personnel were used as a resource to refurbish Historically important buildings, Royal Palaces and high security MOD establishments, as well as countless general schemes elsewhere. As GNA, we continue to uphold the business principles set out in these early years and in so doing have sought to expand our network, not only to all parts of the UK, but into Europe and beyond.

A new management structure which concentrates on business development is backed up by an innovative team of professional Recruiters and Resourcers and it is this combination which drives the continued success. As I look to the future, I can see great opportunity. As a business, aspiration and ambition must lie at the core of what we do, but I have always thought that we can do better than that. After thirty years, we continue to work with clients from those early days and perhaps more significantly, continue to work with personnel that have been present for much of our journey.

Jeremy. A Hanson

Chairman

As a modern, forward looking business, GNA will continue to thrive as we endeavour to match client with candidate. Whether starting out in life as a general operative or seeking one last project in senior management, GNA are proud to promote excellence from every background, ethnicity and gender. A truly multinational, multicultural, modern business.

My very best wishes.
